MSU Libraries Diversity Policy: Strategic Diversity Plan

Preface

“Diversity is an essential component of any civil society. It is more than moral imperative; it is a global necessity. Everyone can benefit from diversity, and diverse populations need to be supported so they can reach their full potential for themselves and their communities. ... To achieve diversity in substance as well as form, libraries have to open their arms to all perspectives and experiences. ... To this end, these standards provide a framework to support [the MSU Libraries] in engaging the complexities of providing services to diverse populations, and recruiting and maintaining a diverse library workforce.” (ALA ACRL Diversity Standards 2012, p. 1)

“One of the greatest challenges facing colleges and universities today is that of creating and maintaining a campus community that reflects the rich diversity of this country. Mississippi State University (MSU) is committed to being such a campus; a campus where differences are welcomed, embraced, and valued. Not only are we committed to creating a campus that reflects the population of our country, but as leader of this beautiful campus, I am committed to creating a culture and climate where everyone feels included and is a valued member of the “Bulldog Family.”

--Mark E. Keenum, MSU President

General Policy Statement

The MSU Libraries are committed to promoting a working and learning environment free of discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sexual orientation or group affiliation, age, gender, disability, genetic information, marital status, or veteran status. The Libraries are committed to building and maintaining a diverse workforce which is representative of the availability of individuals with requisite skills in each component of the organization: management, faculty, staff, and student assistants. The Libraries are also committed to specific actions in recruiting, training, and mentoring which will contribute to this objective, and to fostering a work environment which will insure tolerance and respect for all. To this end, the MSU Libraries support and comply with MSU's Diversity Strategic Plan and with the American Library Association's Association of College and Research Libraries' (ALA ACRL) Diversity Standards: Cultural Competency for Academic Libraries \(2012\).
