

12-2-1893

Letter to W. H. Harvey Esq., December 2, 1893

John Marshall Stone

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarsjunction.msstate.edu/jms-letterbooks>

Preferred Citation

[Title], John Marshall Stone Collection. Congressional and Political Research Center, Mississippi State University Libraries.

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the John Marshall Stone Correspondence Collection at Scholars Junction. It has been accepted for inclusion in Letterbooks by an authorized administrator of Scholars Junction. For more information, please contact scholcomm@msstate.libanswers.com.

December 2nd. 1893.

W. H. Harvey, Esq.,

Chicago, Ill.

Dear Sir:-

Complying with your request of the 28th. ult. to give you my definition of "honest money", I will say that honest money is, in my opinion money that is worth one hundred cents in the dollar every day in the year the world over. One dollar as good as another, or as any other and the representative of the dollar to be used as money as good as the dollar itself. I favor such money, no matter what it is made of, and I think it is "honest money", and I am opposed to any system of finance that is likely to result in a debased currency of any character.

The copy of the "Coin" received with thanks,

Yours very truly,

J. M. Stone