Farm and Home Week Will Have Something For You

July 26-30, 1937 ❖ Opens Night of 26th

With conservation uppermost in the minds of farm leaders, the theme of this year's Farm and Home Week will stress this important subject as it applies to the farm and the home. In addition, the present agricultural situation demands that careful consideration be given to many other problems confronting the future of Mississippi agriculture. Among the important problems to be discussed will be the new farm program, land utilization, farm credit, and the adjustment of rural youth.

COURSE INSTRUCTION

Farm and Home Week will offer a wide variety of courses and afford ample opportunity for discussions on many important subjects. Instructional work will be offered each day from 9:00 to 10:45 A. M. in agricultural engineering, agricultural economics and rural sociology, animal husbandry, crafts, clothing, dairying, food preservation, horticulture and forestry, home management, nutrition, poultry and soils and crops. Various demonstrations will be conducted each afternoon on such subjects as farm machinery, apiculture, culling the flock, dairy cattle judging, etc.

TOURS

Tours will be conducted each morning to the various buildings, barns, and experimental plots and other places of educational interest on the campus and in the surrounding community.

EXHIBITS

Each subject matter department will have an exhibit in the Rifle Range, Basement, College Dormitory which should be of interest to all farmers and home makers. Among the exhibits will be the latest developments in equipment for the farm and home.

Practical Information, Inspirational Addresses and Unique Entertainment will be combined in a well rounded program

GENERAL ASSEMBLIES

Each morning, in Lee Auditorium, from 11:00 to 12:15, headline speakers, men and women prominent in state and national affairs, will be brought to the college to speak during the general assembly hour.

RECREATION

Ample time will be allowed for rest and recreation during the week. Night programs will feature a style revue, community singing, amateur and stunt program, a livestock show and a fun festival and square dance.

MEALS AND LODGING

Rooms will be furnished in the college dormitories at 35c per night. Visitors will be required to bring bed linen, towels, and toilet articles. Meals may be secured in the college cafeteria at 75c per day.

INFORMATION

For further information, see your County or Home Demonstration Agent or write to W. H. Elliott, Chairman, Farm and Home Week Committee, State College, Mississippi. A copy of the complete program will be available by July 15.
