December 14th. 1893.

Mr. W. A. Broughton,

Duka, Miss.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter received and contents noted. I dont know anything about Mr. Walker, but I know Wallace did not mean to interfere with any body's arrangements in the matter. Walker went to him and asked him to write me about it and he complied with his request.

As to the male, I would not sell him for forty dollars. If you can get fifty dollars for him, in cash it may be better to sell him at that price than to keep him, but do not take less. He is worth more money than that, but his value is growing less all the time, and I will have no more use for him.

Yours very truly,
