Bruton March 25. 1842.

W. Aaron Spill

Dear Sir

Recd. a few lines from you by A. Armistead this evening; and am sorry, that I have not by me, the money you want to pay the Taxes with, and I dislike drawing for so small an amount upon New Orleans; you may say to Mr. Turman, that I will pass through Lexington, on my way to Carroll Court, next Saturday or Sunday week, and I will settle with him - I see you design, availing your self of the Bankrupt act of Congress, if you have not employed an attorney and I have no word but I of it to attend to here, I would be pleased to render you my professional assistance - I made no charge as yet upon my book for the Godwyn Case; if you were to give me a good cow and calf, and if you will bind me one when Armistead comes down again, we will be even: if not, my fee will be $20 - you will please send me the evidence of payment of $100 that I may take advantage of it at the May term - I have written to Mr. Coates once or twice and have heard nothing from him, have you seen him lately? and if so, what does he say?
I am pleased to hear of your prospects of a good crop -

I am very truly yrs.
