CAMPAIN SONG

for

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Moderato.

The piano introduction consists of two staves. The right hand features a melodic line with eighth and sixteenth notes, while the left hand provides a rhythmic accompaniment with chords and moving lines.

1. The ball is now open'd, the conflict at hand, We'll gird on our armor to save our fair land, Press

The first line of lyrics is accompanied by musical notation. The right hand has a steady eighth-note accompaniment, and the left hand has a simple harmonic accompaniment.

The second line of lyrics continues the musical piece. The accompaniment remains consistent with the first line, supporting the vocal melody.

chieftain must die let us strike, he will fall, He'll die from the blows of the rail splitters maul, To arms, boys! to arms and to battle we'll rush! Now charge thro' their ranks and the traitors we'll crush.

Our banners unfurled, let us heed the loud call,
 We'll march to the battle the foeman must fall,
 We'll join in the struggle, with hearts firm and true,
 We'll stand by our chief, and the red, white and blue;
 Then hasten brave boys, from the east and the west,
 We'll fight for our chief and the land we love best,
 We'll take up the sword for our nations bright star,
 Come fight 'neath our banner from near from far.

Chorus.

3.

We've taken the field and their chief must be slain,
 We'll rally our forces our rights to maintain,
 Come up to the work then, the strife will be long,
 Our cohorts shall crush the vile traitors tho' strong;
 The clarion is sounding the shrill note of war,
 Come on, noble heroes, we'll fight for our star
 We never will falter, our watchword shall be
 The Union, the hope of the brave and the free.

Chorus.
