Scope and Contents

The collection consists of correspondence, minutes, maps, photographs, ledgers, and other documents concerning the L.N. Dantzler Company and related companies based in southern Mississippi.

Among the other companies represented in the collection are Bond Lumber Company, Cedar Lake Mill, Dantzler Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, W.C. Griffin Land Company, Gulf Ship Company, Handsboro Lumber Company, Lorenzo Land Company, Moss Point Land Company, Native Lumber Company, Ten Mile Lumber Company, and Vancleave Lumber Company. Geographically, the collection focuses on the counties of George, Harrison, Jackson and Stone, although other areas are also included.

Another collection of Dantzler papers is housed at the University of Mississippi.
Administrative History

Lorenzo Nolley Dantzler became a partner in the William Griffin Lumber Company after the Civil War. When the partnership dissolved in 1873, Dantzler began his own company with a small mill formerly owned by the Griffin Company at the mouth of the Pascagoula River. At different times the L.N. Dantzler Lumber Company's activities involved lumber sales, exports, shipping, shipbuilding, oil and mineral leases, land purchases and sales, naval stores, tung nuts, and forest management. The company was one of the largest shippers of lumber in Mississippi by 1913 but declining supplies of virgin timber saw its operations shrink during the 1920s. The last mill owned by the company closed in 1938 though it continued to hold land for tree farming. In 1966 the Dantzler Company was purchased by the International Paper Company.
