Jackson, Miss. March 22nd. 1895'

Hon. F. M. Abbott,

Abbott, Miss.

My dear Sir:-

Your letter of the 18th. instant was duly received and I cordially thank you for the same. I have been so much engaged that this is the first moment in which I have been able to acknowledge the receipt.

Your letter confirms me in the belief that the intelligent business men of the country, no matter in what line of business engaged, including the thoughtful self-sustaining farmer, are right on the question of finance. I have had many letters from all parts of the State, and while they seem to apprehend great danger from the 16 to 1 idea, they usually say that the intelligence of the country is for sound money.

Again thanking you for your very kind letter, and requesting you active assistance in the coming contest, with the further request that you keep me advised as to the outlook in your section of the State,

I am your obliged friend,

and obedient servant,
