March 25th. 1895.

To Whom it May Concern:-

I take pleasure in commending to the kind offices of all with whom he may come in contact, Mr. T. C. Wright, now a resident of Salt Lake City, Utah Territory. Mr. Wright is a native Mississippian, born and reared in the immediate vicinity of Jackson, the capital of the State, where he was greatly respected and has many friends.

He is a member of an excellent family, his mother, who is a widow still being a resident of the neighborhood, and is a most worthy and highly esteemed lady, of great social worth.

Mr. T. C. Wright left the state some years ago, and has since resided at Salt Lake City, where he still resides. He is a gentleman of social standing in this community, and a gentleman man of great moral worth, and as such I commend him to the respect and confidence of all to whom he may think proper to present this writing.

Respectfully,

Governor of Mississippi.

Commending Mr. T. C. Wright,

Salt Lake City, Utah.
