Major C. L. Braden,
Executive Clerk,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:-

I am requested by Miss Bessie K. Nabers, of Holly Springs, Miss., to write you in regard to papers filed with her application for appointment as Postmaster of Holly Springs, Miss., some time last fall or winter. She was not successful, and she is exceedingly desirous of getting the papers. They were filed in the Office of the Postmaster General and withdrawn from there and filed in the President's office. Hon. James Hill, who filed the papers, says he has made repeated attempts to get the papers for Miss Nabers, but has so far failed. He says they are certainly in the President's office, as they were never withdrawn from there after he left them.

I beg to say, my dear Sir, that these papers are of vital importance to Miss Nabers. It is not a mere sentiment to get the papers, but her attorneys tell her that they are of the utmost importance in all a suit she has pending in the courts. I shall advise it a special agent if you will make an effort to find these papers, and if found, please send them to Miss Bessie K. Nabers, of Holly Springs, Miss. Yours very truly,
